PLYMOUTH has been the hub of Wisconsin's dairy and cheese industry since the city was founded. The premiere dairy cow, the Holstein represented here, was imported from Holland in 1870. In 1882, the National Cheese Exchange was established at Plymouth. The city was soon known as the Cheese Capital of the World. Dr. Elmer Eldridge and Harmon Wheeler both perfected methods of processing cheese and were residents of Plymouth. Today, several cheese and dairy companies are flourishing in Plymouth.

Our History

Plymouth is now a thriving community, but when the first settlers came upon Plymouth, they would have seen not much more than wilderness and a stream surrounded by swampy land covered with thickets of alder. Plymouth was originally known by early Native Americans as Ta-quit-qui-oc or Crooked River. Plymouth was originally surveyed in 1835 by United States Engineers with the first land purchase made in 1836.

Plymouth has a rich history beginning when the first settlers, Isaac Thorpe along with his two sons John and Rensallaer and his son-in-law, William Bowen, arrived May 8th, 1845. The men, natives of Pennsylvania, traveled all day from neighboring Sheboygan Falls. By May 12th they had built a log home. There was no floor or chimney, but it kept them safe. As the men were preparing for their first night in the new home, three wagons arrived carrying men, women and children. That first night, all shared the new log home. Four days after that night, on May 16th, Mrs. Thorpe and their daughter arrived.

In July 1845, Henry Davidson and his son Thomas arrived. Henry gave the name of Springfield to the new settlement, but Thomas renamed it Plymouth, after Plymouth, Connecticut, where his sweetheart died and lay buried.

Many more families arrived and settled in the following years, and in 1847, a surveyor was employed to lay out the western side Plymouth. That spring, a log grocery store was built. Following were a small log shop, blacksmith and shoemaker. A business district was in the works. One would spend twelve cents for a pound of coffee, eleven cents for a pound of butter, shoes for a dollar and corn meal for $175 per hundred pounds. The neighboring Natives were frequent customers at the store, selling their goods and purchasing other articles they desired.

The first sawmill was built in 1848, and a grist mill was erected in fall 1849. Just over a decade after the first residents settled in Plymouth, there was a need for a rail center. The arrival of the Sheboygan and Mississippi Railroad came in April 1859, and the Milwaukee and Northern Railroad followed in 1871.

With the growing city, there was a need for a fire department. Organized in October 1868, a hand engine and 200 feet of rubber hose were purchased. By 1875, a fire house had been built and the department consisted of three divisions; chemical crew, hook and ladder crew and a gang of firefighters.

Plymouth was incorporated as a city in 1877, and Otto Puhlman was elected Mayor. Plymouth was nicknamed "The Hub City", not just because of the central location in the county, but for the manufacturing of hubs and spokes for wagons and bicycles.

As Plymouth grew, it had many different types of industry; cigar, furniture, phonograph and beer among them, but it gained its reputation as the "Cheese Capital of the World". Cheeseville was the common name for the section of town south of the depot where cheese was manufactured, collected, stored, cured, graded, packed and shipped all over the world. In fact, during World War II, more than 1,000 of Plymouth's 4,400 citizens found employment in the cheese industry. From 1918 to 1955 the Wisconsin Cheese Exchange, which operated out of the Exchange Bank building downtown, helped to establish, influence and set national cheese prices.

Isaac Thorpe would be proud to see what Plymouth has become. Built by determination, ingenuity and hard work, the values of Plymouth residents remain the same today. Most of the wilderness has been shaped into parks, schools, residential areas and a booming downtown district.

There are many beautiful, historic buildings and homes throughout Plymouth. There are 18 buildings that have been landmarked by the city, and a brochure has been made for a self-guided tour of these landmarked buildings. You may pick up a brochure at the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce Office or the Plymouth Historical Society Museum.

The Plymouth Historical Society museum, located in downtown Plymouth, is housed in a three story cream city brick commercial building built in 1875. It was originally built as a tavern and residence for Mr. William Sebald and his family. It has been home to the Historical Society since 2007. Open year round, the free family friendly museum offers changing exhibits that have included a general store, a vintage parlor, cheese making, Indian arrowheads and artifacts, and much more!

MURAL

Tour

A DIFFERENT BREED OF MURALIST

The Walldogs are a group of highly skilled sign painters and mural artists from all over the globe. The Walldog Movement is quickly gaining popularity, and is a great way for small towns to boost their tourism. Imagine a "pack" of talented artists descending upon your town to paint the most beautiful murals you can imagine. Every wall that a fellow Walldog touches springs to life with images of local places, people, and products that have historic significance to each town.

through successful learning experiences. The school board sees to this by their Pillars of Excellence: Academic Excellence for the 21st Century, Community Engagement, Extra-Curricular Activities, and Financial Responsibility. The Plymouth School district can easily obtain this mission by being the right size to offer both individual attention and a wealth of opportunities.

The Mayor of the City of Plymouth is Don Pohlman, who serves part-time. Mayor Pohlman works with the City Administrator to ensure that all city ordinances and state laws are observed and enforced, and that all city officers, staff, boards, and commissions properly discharge their duties. The Mayor is present at all Common Council meetings and may vote in the case of a tie. The Mayor represents Plymouth at official gatherings.

The Common Council is the legislative branch of City Government. The Common Council is the forum for review and debate of proposed ordinances, resolutions and policies proposed by the standing Council Committees and boards and commissions. The most important legislation is the annual City Budget. The Common Council is comprised of eight part-time alderpersons representing four aldermanic districts. Each alderperson serves a two-year term. The Council operates on a committee structure, with the following standing committees:

- Committee of the Whole (Entire Common Council)
- Finance & Personnel Committee
(4 Council members and Mayor)
- Public Works & Utilities Committee
(4 Council members and Mayor)

In addition to the Council committees, there are several boards and commissions that provide policy input to the Mayor and Common Council and are comprised of citizen members and alderperson representation. These bodies include the Plan Commission, Board of Park Commissioners, Redevelopment Authority, and Library Board as prescribed by Wisconsin statutes. From time to time, the City may also have "ad-hoc" committees like the "Utilities Building Committee."

Common Council Meetings are held on the second and last Tuesday of each month at 7:00 p.m. in the Council Chambers of the City Hall.

Recreation

Sports and Activities

Plymouth is truly an all year community for a wide variety of activities. We are fortunate to have many different community organizations that provide options for keeping everyone active and engaged. During the beautiful Wisconsin spring, summer and fall seasons there are so many opportunities to participate or simply spectate. Our wonderful Wisconsin winters may seem cold and long but embracing the winter activities makes it pass too quickly.

The Plymouth Community Education provides classes ranging from cooking to crafts to woodworking and personal fitness. There are a variety of community sports programs offered by individual organizations available to school age children.

Spring, Summer & Fall

Boating, Canoeing and Kayaking

Public access throughout the surrounding Plymouth area is provided on many lakes by either a developed boat landing or walk-in access. There is a new ADA Compliant Kayak and Canoe Launch along the Mullet River, located next to the Plymouth Youth Center, 609 North Street, Plymouth.

Frisbee Golf

The city maintains an 18-hole Frisbee-golf course at Meyer Park. The course features woods, a river and a variety of long shots. There is also a course located at Road America.

Golf

Evergreen Golf Course offers family fun for everyone with their 9-hole short course and driving range. Open to the public, open tee times, club rental, pull carts and golf carts. Open daily April through October.

Skate Park

7th Element Skate Park is a small outdoor skate park, included two 4 foot quarter pipes, two 4 foot mini roll-ins, one 3 foot spine and more.

The Old Plank Road Trail

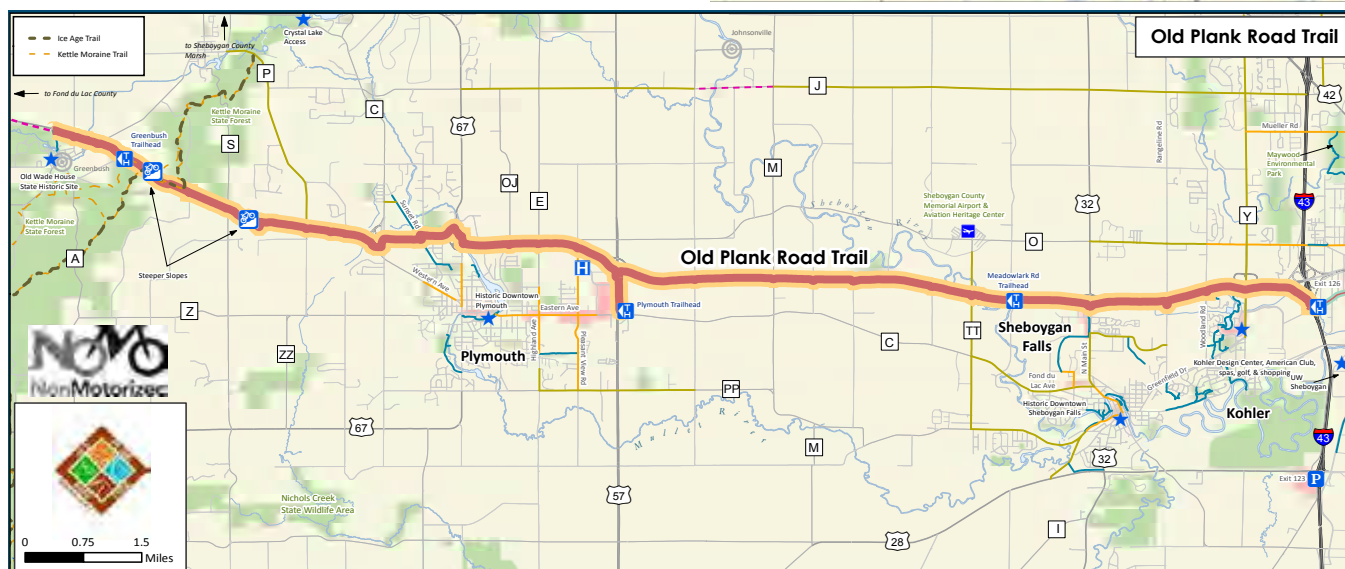

The trail runs from the Kohler Erie Avenue Trailhead in the City of Sheboygan west roughly 17 miles to the hamlet of Greenbush. The terrain varies from flat to gently rolling with one large climb or descent near County Highway S just east of Greenbush. One Trailhead is located on Plymouth's east side. The trail is shared by a variety of users including cyclists, walkers, joggers, mopeders, equestrians as well as snowmobilers in the winter months.

Kettle Moraine Forest, Northern Unit

A single-track mountain bike trail is maintained at the Greenbush recreation area, totaling about 9 miles. A state trail pass is required for all bike riders age 16 and over on these trails. Normally these trails are opened in late April through November, depending on trail conditions.

Mullet River

The Mullet River is a river that travels through Plymouth, Wisconsin. It is surrounded by natural beauty and also cuts through downtown. This little gem offers scenic beauty and opportunities for kayaking and fishing.

Kayaking on the Mullet River is now made easier by a new kayak launch located by Riverview Middle School. Take your kayaks or canoes there for an easy, hassle free drop into the river. This is also the widest/largest portion of the river so you are able to explore without worrying about the Mullet's varying water levels.

Fishing is another great way to enjoy the Mullet River. The most popular species caught are Smallmouth bass, Northern pike, and Bluegill. A popular location for fishing is at the dam located by Veterans Memorial Trail, downtown Plymouth.

Take a look at some of the fish you may discover in the Mullet River. >>>

Bluegill

Labeled a "panfish," the bluegill is almost as wide as it is long. Length sometimes reaches 10-12 inches, and weights go up to 2 pounds.

Smallmouth Bass

An average smallmouth weighs between 1 and 2 pounds, will measure about 12 inches and is considered the scrappiest fish of all.

Largemouth Bass

The largemouth grows to a weight of 11 pounds and length of about 24 inches.

Northern Pike

Pike attain lengths of as much as 50 inches. The record Wisconsin fish weighed 38 pounds.

Brown Trout

Native to Europe, brown trout in Wisconsin have a common catch size of 16" and 2 pounds.
